

HQ Reading Health Office to Consolidate with Beverly Site

After much deliberation, Health Quarters has moved to merge our Reading health office with our Beverly health office, with the Reading site closing on December 10, 2010. “It was a difficult decision to reach as we have had a longstanding commitment to serve the reproductive health care needs of people in this area,” said HQ Executive Director Lianne Cook.

The effects of the long-term recession, reduced government funding, and increases in the cost of delivering high quality health care have necessitated this decision to preserve the overall health of the organization.

HQ is inviting Reading clients to continue their care with Health Quarters at the 19 Broadway clinical office in Beverly. Clients can be assured that, under longtime clinician MaryAnne Baker and staff, they will receive the same excellent, personalized care, easy-to-schedule appointments, and cost effective contraception they have come to expect from HQ.

Director of Health Care Quality Renee LaForce can be contacted at 978.927.9824 x2109 with questions about these changes or any other matters relating to client health and well-being.
